

Culvert Operations

Look at the size of that 'gator...wow! These workers were installing new drainage pipes in Florida when they stumbled upon some interesting wildlife.

Now I can see some of you rodeo hero wannabes out there drooling all over your keyboard, so I'd just like to remind you that watching the crocodile man on TV doesn't make you an expert trapper. Do me a favor...if you run across some wildlife that doesn't belong, call your local animal control. They know what they're doing.

One more thing...even gentle-looking critters, like deer, can be dangerous. They may also carry diseases that can be transmitted to humans. So whether it's a beaver, a bear, a cow or a crocodile...keep your distance and let the pros take care of the problem.
