

Deer Droppings

At first glance, what would you say happened here? The guy in the Durango hit a deer, right? That was my first guess too, but it's WRONG! This unsuspecting and very lucky fella was just driving along minding his own business, when all of a sudden Ka-Blam! A deer drops from the sky and smashes right through his windshield. Really...no joke. Apparently the animal was crossing the bridge in the background when it was frightened by another vehicle. It jumped over the bridge and fell into traffic below (the Durango, to be exact).

Now here's the part where I would normally say somethin' like "Use your head, people, and watch out for falling deer." But we all know that you can't be prepared for something like this. Sometimes the unexpected and inconceivable happens. All you can do is be alert at all times, and prepared to respond to an emergency. What would you do if something suddenly smashed through your windshield? Think about it...
